

DEMOCRATS WAIT FOR THE LEADER

UNTIL STATE CHAIRMAN IS NAMED NOTHING CAN BE DONE TOWARD ORGANI-ZATION.

ALL DEPENDS UPON CHOICE

New Moses to Lead Party Out of the Desert Into Promised Land Must Be Skillful Politician.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—Democratic leaders in this state feel that party politics and candidates cannot be much discussed until after the meeting of the state central committee, which Chairman H. H. Hanson says is to be called for the purpose of accepting his resignation. The selection which is made for a chairman will, it is believed by many, determine to a large degree the character of the campaign. It is said by some of the leaders that if a live, active man of progressive sympathies is chosen for the place it may mean much for the party. They declare on the other hand that the selection is such that the progressive element of the democratic party have not much to do with the party politics, there is no question a large proportion of the democratic party will be found in the republican primaries next fall voting for the nomination of Robert M. La Follette for the United States senate.

Early Work Necessary.

The general belief among the democratic leaders seems to be that the situation in this state has many phases which mean early work toward the line of party organization. Thus the democratic party must poll 20 per cent of its vote in the primary election to entitle it to a party designation on the official ballot. This means the improvement on the democratic voters in many counties that they must keep out of the republican family row on primary election day or else the party ticket will have to run as an independent ticket and the democratic county nominations will only get placed as independents on the official ballots in the counties where the vote of the democratic party does not equal the required percentage. It is said also there are many counties in the state in which the vote is very light not to be up to the required percentage unless attention is given right away to the democratic organization work in the counties.

Drop Factional Differences.

So far not so much attention is being given to the personality of the candidates for the state chairmanship by these leaders as to the man who is selected for chairman is likely to make and the work which he is likely to accomplish if chosen for the place.
The people who are talking this way also declare it is time that all factional differences in the party be dropped and that good democratic units and do all the work possible for the party's good.

Cannot Daily With Republicans.

It is also said by democratic leaders that any man who is selected for democratic party chairman cannot afford to daily for one minute with the conservative republican leaders, who are undoubtedly throwing out the bait to some democrats to see to it that a conservative democrat is selected as the candidate for the United States senate under the theory that if Senator La Follette does not control the majority of the members of the legislature the conservative republican members of that body will unite with the democrats for the election of a conservative democrat for the United States senate.

May Increase Representation.

It is admitted by democratic leaders who are discussing the situation that because of the situation in the republican party there is likely to be a great increase in the representation of democratic members in the next legislature.

There is no question that in districts where the republican factional feeling is running high that if a star-wart or reactionary republican is the republican legislative nominee that the halfhearted are likely to turn in and aid in the election of the democratic candidate. This is a situation which cannot be avoided and the democratic party is likely to be a greater beneficiary from this kind of cutting in this campaign than over before in its history.

Should Have No Influence.

This fact, however, according to the belief of the democratic leaders who are trying to mould at this time a sentiment for a real democratic leadership in this state should have no influence on the democratic party who they declare should nominate democrats who have progressive ideas in their hearts and are willing to support progressive democratic policies without regard to whether the candidates will attract republican votes by their personalities. It is the declaration of the leaders who are urging these policies that the democratic party has played the opportunist double to one faction or the other of the republican party in this state for too long a period and that one of the reasons for the weakness of the democratic party in this state is because of its ties with republicans and lack of a definite policy.

by felonious intent or not we, the jury,

all.
Attorney Walsh, for Hyde, later gave as a reason for not allowing Hyde to testify that there was nothing in the investigation to show that Hyde was in any way responsible for Swope's death. Walsh said he would accept full responsibility for the refusal and assured the public he be-

MEANING OF LENT TO GAY GOTHAMITES

Amusements That Are Worth While Cultivated Forty Days Just For Variety's Sake.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

New York, Feb. 9.—Today, Ash-Wednesday, marks the beginning of Lent, social pleasures are supposed to give place to a season of fasting and prayer. So far as New York is concerned the social season has been of the nature of a long, slow, and whispering death.

For those who remain in town, however, the Lenten period does not necessarily mean sackcloth and ashes.

Dinners, operas, bridge parties and concerts and other entertainments for charity, with a few very small and private dances thrown in, comprise the usual diversions for the penitential period.

This is the time when society women remaining in town rest and recuperate after their winter of gayety and get themselves in good condition for spring travels and summer disipation. Lectures are daily diet, art, literature, politics, history and hygiene are discussed to the mental and physical improvement of the listeners.

It is a harvest time for teachers of various arts. Riding lessons form a part of the programme during Lent, while, singing, fancy dancing, fencing, swimming, ice skating and gymnastics all are practiced by the fashionable young women of society who, as a matter of fact, enjoy these occupations as a contrast to their more conventional life of the winter.

Nor is the religious aspect of Lent

wholly lost sight of in the metropolis. The period is especially observed in all the Catholic and Episcopal churches, where elaborate services are held on Ash Wednesday, Holy Week, Good Friday, Palm Sunday, ending with a grand triumphant service on Easter Sunday.

CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY.

It was said of the late Lord Salisbury that he conducted the British empire by means of impressive royal commissions, designed to tranquillize the public and leave him to carry out his favorite policy of letting things alone. "Can't you let it alone?" was always his answer to any proposal for reform, and there is a good deal to be said from a business point of view for an administration which does too little rather than too much. Our own parallel of the royal commission is the congressional inquiry, used far too often to perpetuate abuses.

As a means of avoiding necessary legislation, perhaps our most successful exhibit is the monetary commission. Its inquiries have been most exhaustive. It is publishing a large amount of instructive literature. It is certainly constituted of a number of gentlemen in the most urgent need of teaching on political economy. Being men of ordinary intelligence it is to be supposed that their minds have been broadened. So far as any legislation to change a currency and banking system which is a menace to the world's commerce is concerned, the commission has done nothing.

It is highly improbable that it will ever do anything. The next is the short session of congress, and it would be hard to convince any one with experience of congressional methods, that in addition to the absolutely necessary work for the conduct of the country's business, such an intricate subject as complete currency and banking reform, could be handled as well. Under our method of legislation, anything useful seems practically impossible.

The new congress elected next November may or may not continue the work of the monetary commission indefinitely. It looks, however, as if what some people imagine to have been its real end had been achieved already, in the indefinite perpetuation of a gross abuse.

We are having a great parade of earnestness over an inquiry into the high cost of living. We shall probably devise something after the style of Lord Salisbury's royal commissions in this case also. The tariff must be held sacred, and the interests of too many generous contributors to campaign funds are at stake to warrant any hasty action. If educating politicians is the only object any congressional committee appointed would learn more in an elementary course in political economy at Cooper Union than it is likely to extract from expert witnesses.

For all purposes of remedy, the inquiry will be of prearranged force. The high cost of living will have adjusted itself before any legislation can be introduced, and it seems hardly worth while to waste the public money on the instruction of statesmen, many of whom will probably be defeated at the congressional election in November.

A CHECK TO BOYCOTTING

Justice is a word which does not admit of any qualifying adjectives. Even the old prayer book word "indifferent," used to imply evenly-balanced, is superfluous. Justice which leans in either direction is not justice at all. The decision in the Danbury Hatters' case is justice. It defends not only an inalienable right of the citizen, but a moral right with-out which the fabric of society would fall to pieces.

Possibly the Hatters' Union in resorting to the boycott believed that at the worst it was doing evil that good might come. Even with the defense of that dangerous old fallacy, no case can be made out which could justify the end of the strikers. The liberty of every one of them just as much as that of the employers is imperilled by the boycott. It is a weapon intellectually on a par with the taboo of the Polynesian. The country has gained something worth having if the decision in the Danbury Hatters' case has demolished it once for all.

It would probably be impossible to persuade a union workman of the truth of the statement that the life of trades unions is bound up in the open shop. By no means can they more certainly insure their ultimate extinction than by the strict enforcement of the closed shop. They can find, in London and the Hantsville towns, trades guilds which linger high and dry while the industry of the world has progressed beyond them.

These guilds limited the number of apprentices, fixed the hours of labor, wages, and even the selling price of the commodity. They employed the boycott against competitors in other cities, they tried to make labor scarce and therefore highly paid, by raising difficulties for the workman who desired to enter the guild. They used absolutely every weapon with which the modern labor leader is willing to fight. They exist now only for the benefit of the officers, a condition not unparalleled in modern times.

We have very grave doubts if the labor leaders represent the men who employ them. They make a great deal of noise. They talk a great deal of incendiary nonsense. They do a great deal of mischief in the way of waste. But in this country labor, outside of the wilfully unemployed, is always in demand. There is always a surplus in cities like New York and London of the unemployed who are unemployable, who would sooner loaf on the verge of starvation than work. Outside of those the demand for labor is inexhaustible.

No doubt the labor unions have done great work in improving the condition of the workman. Their usefulness is not questioned, and, indeed, it is because of that usefulness that we rejoice that they are not to be permitted to degenerate into an irresponsible oligarchy as oppressive as any other form of industrial monopoly.

John Hribben Walker says food will be cheaper only when a parcel post is inaugurated to compete with the express companies. What would become of the senators who represent them in congress?

When in Rome Mr. Fairbanks did as the Indiana statesmen do and talked to the Methodist church gathering, which did not please the pope at all.

While the anti-administration men are laying all their plans for a strenuous campaign the other side is quietly working up a bomb shell they hope to fire off some day soon.

Senator Haysburn of Idaho made a mistake when he started in to draw out of seclusion the sectional spirit in his speech in the Senate. He was justly rebuked.

Wall street ought to take some sort of a retirement to prevent getting swamped every time it feels peevish towards the national government.

Two thousand five hundred sailors in the American navy can not swim. Let us hope they never will have to keep from drowning.

Standard Oil is not talking very much about that dissolution order, but the public can tell what is going on just the same.

Holding out the inducement to corporations to get national charters is a bit at one of New Jersey's leading institutions.

The gorilla are in deep trouble. The Wisconsin state board of health has banished the public drinking cup.

"Chanticleer" if produced in Paris last week would have had to give a goose or a duck the leading role.

Governor Hughes believes that he has shown the New Yorkers how to do something to help themselves.

Taft is going to celebrate St. Patrick's day in Chicago this year. He has chosen wisely.

Every time that it comes Russia coming Finland's constitution gives one shiver for help.

Apparently there is a lot of "black hand" in this country of soap and water.

Wall street may be said to be not only a nuisance but also a calamity.

THE POET PHILOSOPHERBY WALT MASON
—1908, by George Mathew Adams.)

There's a room at the top for the fellow who's bound to land on the summit some day; the trail's pretty rough, and there's holes in the ground, and there's danger of going stray; but the top will be reached by the strong, patient soul, who over his keeping his eyes on the goal, and always keeps pegging away. There's trouble to burn in this valley of grief, and the skies are oft sultry and gray.

PEGGING AWAY

The strong, patient soul, who over his keeping his eyes on the goal, and always keeps pegging away. There's trouble to burn in this valley of grief, and the skies are oft sultry and gray.

but a man never finds that it brings him relief to murmur and grumble and bray; he'll find that it lightens his burden of gloom, and changes his grievance clear up the flame, if he only keeps pegging away. It's tough to be poor when the insolent rich go past in their carriages, to jump from the highway and into the ditch, avoiding the wheels of their shiny; but you in your auto or carriage may ride, and stir up the dust of a whole country, side, if you always keep pegging away. The man who are busy miles half of the way that's hunting for victims to slay; they get all the cream in this valley below, while others subsist on the whey; while Fortune kicks others she'll give you a kiss, you'll win more applause, and you'll know more of bliss, if you always keep pegging away.

PENCIL OF MANY HUES

Marking Crayon, Lumber gage and Tally Pencil in One.

One of the most ingenious little devices recently put on the market is that shown in the cut. This device, the invention of a Maryland man, is a combination marking crayon, lumber gage and tally pencil. First, there is a part, this tube with an opening large enough to receive a lead pencil. At the other end is an enlarged tubular holder for crayon, the crayon being held in a chamber, which makes a stop when the tube is drawn across the edge of a board, for instance. Along the tube a scale is marked, by means of which the thickness of a board may be measured, as between the shoulder and the notch on the gage. The device is for marking boards, and the pencil for recording the various necessary data in the owner's notebook. For lumbermen this little implement is very useful as it relieves them of the necessity of keeping their vest pockets stuffed with a valuable assortment of pencils, crayons and rules, and also saves them the trouble of wasting time in hunting for each of these implements as it is required.

WATCH THE BALL.

George Stone, the holder of the St. Louis Browns, is a keen observer of the players.

He says the reason why so many baseball players fail to be good hitters is because they persist in watching the pitchers and fail to keep their eyes on the ball.

Which observation contains some good philosophy. Many a man has failed of success in life because he has kept his eye on what the other fellow is doing, instead of looking out for the main chance.

Watch the ball. Many a young man watches his boss more than he watches his job. Listen, and you will hear one of them complaining of the way the foreman nags toward him. His grievance is mostly of his own fancy. He tells how, ever he is in control, he would run the business. That young man is taking up his time in watching the pitcher when he ought to—

Watch the ball. The good hitter gives scant attention to the gyrations of the pitcher, who is oftentimes an adept hypnotist. The good batter watches the ball, keeps his eye on its angle, and when it comes strictly his way he "swats" it good and hard. He may sometimes fail in his eye measurement and nukes, but not often. He studies every chance and never falls to—

Watch the ball. So must the business batter be. He aspires to succeed the young man, whether in trade or business or profession, cannot take time to keep tab on the ways of the other fellow and to the exclusion of his battling business. He should not absorb his energies in criticism of the pitcher or the umpire, but should make it his special aim to—

Watch the ball. And when that ball comes right! The great trouble with many a school or college graduate is that when he gets into the game he spends altogether too much time in watching the pitcher. He has not yet learned how to adjust his eye to the ball. He is slow in making a hit. By and by he learns the trick and makes up for lost time. He knows how to—

Watch the ball. If you hope to succeed in baseball or banking, in preaching or planting, in buying or building, or what not—

Watch the ball.

Even in small things such as notions there are economies to be made by the women who form a habit of shopping at a store where goods are sold at right prices. ## ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message from a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality.

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blemishes, cracks, feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow, muddy complexion, dark-circled eyes, general weakness of the system, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Hence this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Miss, Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Muc-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Muc-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vitality, will use Rexall Muc-Tone, they will realize as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Muc-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy cures poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall Muc-Tone does relieve catarrh. ## WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Did you ever realize that it is rather dangerous to be clever?

Dangerous, I mean, as far as attainment in life is concerned.

A woman who was lauded and feted as the best woman artist in her home community went to Paris to study painting under the greatest master living.

"The first time he came into my studio I was painting," she said, in speaking of him. "Of course I stopped and at once rose to receive him, but he insisted that I sit on with my work, and he began to wander about the studio looking at my things."

"Finally he came to a halt and I could feel that he was standing in front of a certain head which I had done and which many people had told me was remarkably brilliant."

"He stood there for several minutes before he spoke, and then he said—

"How clever you are!" and then as my heart began to swell with pride, "And how I can tell you out of your cleverness."

It seems to me that there are a great many people who need to be helped as she was to escape from the dangers of their own cleverness.

For the man who can do a thing easily and cleverly seldom does it as well as he can.

As almost every one has learned from experience, when you have a great deal to do—much more than you think you can possibly get done—you usually manage to do most if not all of it. It's when you have only a little to do most of the time in which to do it, that your work drags and you get behind. In the same way the man who does a thing too easily is apt by reason of his facility to grow lazy and to fall behind the man who has to work very hard in order to attain.

The man who has to work hard for modest achievements frequently works so hard that he overshoots his original mark and attains for more than modest achievements.

My most successful term in college was the term in which I had a month's illness to make up. Conscious of my handicap I worked so hard to overcome it that I did better than I ever did when I was unhampered.

So obstacles are often spurs to success and too great facility is often fatal to achievement.

In the race between the less talented man with ambition and the very clever man made lazy by his cleverness, my money is with the former every time.

Yes, I realize that it's just the old, old fable of the tortoise and his too clever friend, the hare, dressed up in "highbrow" terms that I am telling, but won't it do you good to have it recalled?

The moral?

Why, just cheer up if you're the tortoise.

THE VERY LATEST TRICORNE.

The absolute simplicity of the latest development in tricorones is one of the most delightful features of this personality popular shape. Like the sailor, the three-cornered hat has its season after season and always with some novelty to recommend it. This spring one house in particular has brought out a variety of novel braids in tricorone, which owe much of their attractiveness to the trimming treatment accorded to the velvet faced braid. The rose garland, starting almost abruptly near the left point and winding gracefully across the top of the crown and thence trails around its base.

MISS MARTHA GRUENING

MISS AGNES NECTOR

A Smith College Graduate. Spent Ten Hours in Jail and the Girl Who Secured the Bonds Releasing her.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The night of January 29 will be one long remembered by Miss Martha Gruening. From about 2 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight she was in a cell at Moyamensing prison, where she was committed by Magistrate Scott on a charge of inciting a riot.

Miss Gruening is a graduate of Smith college and a post graduate student of Bryn Mawr. The trouble arose over the shirtwaist makers' strike and at midnight friends of Miss Gruening, headed by Miss Agnes Nector of Chicago, one of the leaders of the shirtwaist makers' strike, succeeded in securing bonds for her.

If the young suffragette had discovered the police or performed some other duty, she could not have met with a more enthusiastic reception than she received from the dozen kissing and hugging women and girls who had come to her rescue. "There were many questions of 'What was it like?' 'Does it feel queer?' to spend 10 hours in a prison cell?" and over and over Miss Gruening had to tell the story of her arrest and incarceration.

She was escorted from the prison to her home none the worse for her exciting experience.

While in prison Miss Gruening did not spend the time weeping and bemoaning her fate. Instead she delivered an impromptu series of lectures on women's rights to the prison inmates, who, attracted by her charming personality, were nothing loath to listen.

Miss Gruening believes she made a number of converts among the employees of the prison.

Miss Gruening, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gruening of New York, is one of the organizers of the Pennsylvania Suffrage League. With many other suffragettes she is making an active part in the strike of the shirtwaist operators.

While she was doing her duty Friday night in front of a shirtwaist factory in the northeastern section of the city a riot occurred between the strikers and girls who are still at work. Miss Gruening and a number of the strikers were arrested and locked in a police station over night.

At the hearing in the morning she was held in $500 bail, in default of which she was taken to the prison with the other prisoners. Her friends did not learn of her whereabouts until late at night.

JUDGMENT MUST BE USED IN ALL CHARITY WORK

By MARY HUSSELL

To a certain class an offer of help means always money. The idea many people have because some one has a large income they must necessarily be looking for just such needy people as they feel themselves to be. In almost every case, however, the needy are not looking for money, but for help.

Needy are not looking for money, but for help. The needy are not looking for money, but for help. The needy are not looking for money, but for help.

Needy are not looking for money, but for help. The needy are not looking for money, but for help. The needy are not looking for money, but for help.

Needy are not looking for money, but for help. The needy are not looking for money, but for help. The needy are not looking for money, but for help.

remember that any mother has given more to the child, to whom she has given her youth than he will ever have time enough to repay. He cannot begin to soon. And, above all, take no man's charity. To do that is the first step down towards pauperdom, and that is the beginning of a rapidly descending scale. Honest work and honest pay, with a clean, strong purpose to get to the top and the top may be at any altitude for a young man.

MADRIZ TROOPS HAVE RE-CAPTURED BOACA

Rebel Stronghold Taken After Army Under Chamorro Has Been Routed.

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 9.—According to dispatches from Gen. Viquez, commander of the Nicaraguan government forces, he has defeated the insurgent army under Gen. Chamorro re-captured BOACA.

Three columns of the government force advanced upon the town simultaneously and forced Chamorro to retreat in haste, but the leader of the insurgents succeeded in slipping into the jungle northeast of BOACA and escaping. A large force of Gen. Viquez' troops is following his demoralized soldiers and the Madriz officials hope his capture is near.

Madriz says it is certain Chamorro's campaign is a complete failure. He says Chamorro failed to provoke the expected uprising at Chinandega. He declares 27 artillerymen have deserted Gen. Zeledón's insurgent column, leaving only two experienced men. Ten deserters from Chamorro's army have arrived at Leon.

The government captured papers at BOACA purporting to be plans of Chamorro's campaign. The papers stated that in case of defeat the insurgents would retreat eastward by way of the Rio Grande river.

DISCUSS TOPICAL SUBJECTS.

Wisconsin Dairymen Hold 38th Annual Convention at West Salem.

West Salem, Wis., Feb. 9.—With interest considerably stimulated by the meeting of milk producers of the country in Chicago Monday, the members of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association opened their thirty-eighth annual convention here this morning.

The first session was taken up with formalities, the address of President F. H. Serfling of Rosendale, and a paper on the Wisconsin cow competition by Prof. F. W. Wolf of the University of Wisconsin.

This afternoon C. L. Hill of Rosendale talked about alfalfa, L. Alderhold of Neenah about the ventilation of farm buildings, and W. J. Fessler, professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Illinois, about the cow index of keep and profit. To-night, after addresses by Albert J. Duxton of Racine and B. H. Kavel of the dairy division of the department of agriculture by the citizens of West Salem. Tomorrow evening the annual banquet will be given, and the convention closes Friday afternoon with an address by ex-Gov. D. W. Howard, the real founder of the association.

ALLEGED ROBBER IS RELEASED.

Innocent Man Sent to Prison is Freed by Governor.

Lacrosse, Wis., Feb. 9.—After serving part of a ten-year sentence at Waupun prison for the alleged robbery of the bank at Holcomb, Wis., November 25, 1908, Thomas Burns, convicted at Eau Claire last April, has been declared innocent by members of the state board of control and Gov. Davidson has issued a pardon for the man. At the time of the trial Burns was defended by an attorney retained by the state and said to him that he had a perfect alibi. No attention was paid to the statement and his conviction followed. An alibi was established before the board of control.

A Blow in the Back.—An overcoat is a necessary nuisance and the tendency to take it off on warm days in late autumn and winter is as strong as it is unwise. A treacherous blow like this in the back and the next morning you have lumbago. Rub well and often with Perry Davis' Pain-Exorciser and you will be astonished to find how quickly all soreness is banished.

OF IMPORTANCE TO INFANTS AND THEIR MOTHERS

Every mother at some time has purchased lime water. Very few know anything about its quality. Lime water is one of the cheapest things sold in a drug store. Generally little care is taken to prepare or take care of it. The ordinary way of making it is to obtain a chunk of lime, throw it into a large jug filled with water, shake occasionally, and sell the clear liquid. The lime lumps are entitled to better thought. Lime water is a valuable infant's remedy for indigestion, sour stomach and as a food with milk and milk sugar. Mr. Fleming, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares lime water by adding chemically pure carbonic oxide in the exact proportion to sterilized water. It is then stored in clean glass bottles. You will always find it full strength, not contaminated by dust and dirt as lime in a lumber yard is bound to be. It is these things that make the difference in good drugs and the best drugs. Chemically pure lime water, 15c a pint. Highest purity sugar milk 5c a pound. Eagle condensed milk, 3 cans five. Your baby should have the advantage of our good lime water and other drugs. ## WETMORE'S SATURDAY SALES

Of Interest to Every Woman in Janesville

WHY WE DO IT

These sales attract and are always well attended because they represent in every case great big bargains, large values for the money, in toilet articles that every woman can use daily.

It is remarkable how many women attend these sales each Saturday. When the sales were first started about two months ago the attendance was not very large, but each succeeding Saturday the attendance has increased to a marked degree.

In starting these Saturday sales it was our original intention to offer at special prices, for sale day only, some of our home preparations, using the sale price as a lever to introduce them thoroughly in Janesville. The sales met with such immediate success that we swerved from our original intention and have decided to have a sale every Saturday in the year.

Next Saturday's sale will offer a better and much larger bargain than any previous one. Four different kinds of excellent toilet goods which can be used daily, all our own make. The regular price for the four runs over a dollar. Saturday's price for the four will be 50c.

You need not suffer from sickness, and you need not fill yourself with drugs in order to be made well.

The great new science of Chiropractic has shown the world that in order to be made well and to remain well it is necessary to remove the cause of the affliction and that treating symptoms with medicine is not as practical as the Chiropractic adjustment. Every nerve in the entire body which controls every function and organ of the entire human system and every nerve (300,000,000 in all) pass through the spine. When certain nerves do not perform their functions you become sick. The way to remove the cause of the sickness is to get at the nerves that are not working. This is done by Chiropractic adjustments of the spine. Almost every ailment is curable by the Chiropractic science. If you suffer from sickness of any kind, call for free consultation and advice.

Take a little Diapiespain now and your stomach will feel fine five minutes later.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of Indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiespain in the house handy?

This little rose blowing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pappe's Diapiespain, then you will readily see it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heart-burn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as Hicching of Gas, Eructations of sour undigested food, Nausea, Head-aches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to the relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common over-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a cure of Nervousness, Gravelitis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. You don't know what you eat and don't digest; instead, it ferments at source, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pappe's Diapiespain.

It does not give absolute three-cent fare. The election will be held February 17.

DAILY DIET HINTS.

DIETING.

"All the world's a-dieting," says a London press dispatch, "with the king of England leading." Dieting has its limitations, but if an agreement among doctors who are expected to disagree upon matters of vital importance, indicates anything, it is certain that, to use a professionalism, diet is "indicated," unanimously, except in the opinion of the eminent author of "Paralindny" in Nutrition, who thinks some of us don't eat enough. If the average man would learn to eat one thing at a time and eat that very slowly; in spite of every demand on his time, the diet doctor's occupation would soon be gone. We eat too much, chiefly because we eat too fast, for we don't know what to eat for health and strength; chiefly because hurried eating and indiscriminate mixing destroy the natural appetite. Eat few foods at a meal and eat more slowly is the fundamental rule which all the world except, perhaps, the Japanese and the Fletcherites need to follow.
